

A dangerous threat to democracy, human rights and the rule of law

There is growing outrage at the lack of open justice in the political prosecutions of “Witness K” and Bernard Collaery.
The defendants may not be allowed to see all the evidence.

Everyone knows that Australia spied on Timor in one of the grubbiest deceptions of Australian history – the swindling of the Timorese people.

The cover-up now involves the pursuit of people who told the truth.
It has nothing to do with “national security”.

It serves as a warning to others to never tell the truth about government wrongdoing.

Timor Saga #1

Two Australians are being prosecuted for telling the truth.
These charges must be dropped!

The story so far...

East Timor was largely destroyed at the end of the Indonesian occupation. Australia helped reconstruction through AusAid.

At the same time Australia and the new nation of Timor-Leste were negotiating over the resources of the Timor Sea.

The Australian Government spied on the Timorese negotiators.

ECONOMIC ESPIONAGE
on USA? (no),
China? (er, no),
New Zealand? (oh, please),
East Timor?
(correct).

Ha, ha, Australia - the real "Robbin' Hood"! A rags to riches story! From their rags to our riches! Hoo! Hoo!

No deal! You spied on us.

We admit nothing.

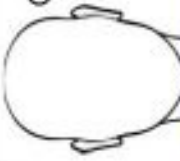

Timor then ended the Treaty which had been spied on and began negotiations for a proper border.

Yes. Govt spied illegally, but "K" and Collaery face jail.

Sshh. Keep it under wraps. If it comes up, it's about "National Security". (Always a winner, heh, heh.)

Hang on! What's the crime? The illegal spying...or telling the truth? What about if someone spied on us????

"Witness K"

So Alexander Downer is working for Woodside.....!

One of the Australian spies, now known as "Witness K" was horrified to later learn that the Foreign Minister at the time of the spying was now lobbying for the oil company.

"Witness K" engaged a lawyer - Bernard Collaery.

The new border Treaty was signed in New York in March 2018.

But then came the bombshell....

"K" and Collaery were charged.

What?

Ah, but you see, when we get spied on, that's a different thing altogether. Like SOME OTHER STATES: try to do to us, (What dreadful people, so underhanded.) But if we spy on someone else (like East Timor) well, that's in Australia's national interest.

Sure we're prosecuting Witness K and Bernard Collaery... but we can say no more...our lips are sealed... (and we'd rather yours were too) in the national interest, you understand... for national security..... to keep you safe....

The Attorney-General has the power to DROP THE CHARGES.
